

The California Democrats have declared for Tilden.

Any you a plumed knight? Dont all speak at once.

The Nicholas County delegates were given a public reception on their return home from Winchester.

Nevada Democrats favor the old ticket and unrestricted silver coinage and demand the exclusion of the Chinese.

The House of Representatives has voted to adjourn June 30. The Senate will have to act upon the resolution.

The New York Congressional districts have selected Tilden delegates to Chicago. The selections were made with great unanimity.

The Boston Herald and the Advertiser pronounce the nomination of Blaine a notoriously unjust one, and declare uncompromising opposition to it.

CONGRESSMAN LYMAN, independent Republican of Massachusetts, says that the Democrats have only to nominate a good man and their success is assured.

NAT, of Harper's Weekly, is sharpening his pencil for the benefit of Mr. Blaine, and some very interesting things may be expected from that source.

A WASHINGTON special says: "Blaine will make a personal canvass, taking the stump in New York, Ohio, Indiana, North Carolina and West Virginia."

The Tennessee colored delegates to Chicago are in trouble. They are charged with offering to take bribes, and several of them are threatened with lynching.

RIDGELL will receive the solid vote of the Democracy of this county. The Democrats who opposed his nomination, without exception will give him their warm support.

The New York Herald says the Republicans will be sorry before November for "their fearful blunder" in nominating Blaine, and advise the Democrats to nominate Tilden or Cleveland to insure success.

A MEETING of the district committee will be held at Lexington on the 20th, instant to fix the time and place for holding the convention to nominate a Democratic candidate for Judge of the Superior Court in the third district.

GEORGE WILLIAM CURTIS, Carl Schurz and other independent Republicans have called a meeting of a New York for Tuesday night. They will make a protest against the nomination of Blaine, and will volunteer suggestions to the coming Democratic Convention.

Mary Anderson, after a successful tour in the English provinces, will arrive in summer in Italy. Her next season in London will be in conjunction with Mr. Terrier.

No Typical American Woman. The typical American woman does not exist, for the term is altogether too general in its application. To characterize a typical New England, Western or Southern woman would be less difficult to bring within the range of possibilities; but in its female types the United States differs markedly from all other countries. The fact is that the so-called "typical American" too often understood by foreigners to be representative of the nation in general, combines, at the most, characteristics only of certain localities.—Boston Herald.

There will be a vacancy for maid of honor in Queen Victoria's household in consequence of the marriage of the Hon. Victoria Ballie, who, in accordance with the usual custom, will receive a present of £1,000 from her Majesty. A list of candidates for these posts is always kept, but there are very few names on it just now. When the Queen and Prince Albert visited Plymouth in 1842, Lady Dredalbone's niece went away for the period of the royal sojourn, as neither of them was anxious to be offered a court appointment, such offer, of course, being practically equivalent to a coronet, and refusal being resented as a piece of gross ingratitude, not to say an impertinence.

The Fashions. Brooklyn Eagle.

There is a strong probability that poplin will again come to the front in the fall.

Among fashionable combinations in colors its gray and terra cotta. Designs in terra cotta on a gray silk ground are in rich fabrics and are used for parts of costumes.

The accordion playing is now executed in piece oriental lace, with trimming to match, and is very beautiful and effective over silk for summer costumes, and affords an opportunity for handsome toilets at little expense.

A pretty traveling dress for a bride is made of electric blue surah, with a small mantlet of the same trimmed with pinked out ruffling. Straw bonnet to match with feathers, and large bow of surah ribbon fastened with steel darning needles.

Detached figures, or large figures of any kind, are now the fashionable capes. The colors should be soft and well blended, the figures inconspicuous and so lost in each other as to make it difficult to separate them. Small figures are sometimes used for small sitting or bedrooms.

CONGRESSIONAL.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—The Springer Committee deferred until Friday the examination of Merrick, counsel in the Star Route case.

In the House, on motion of Mr. Drexler, the Senate bill extending the terms of the act of August 8, 1883, to encourage and promote telegraphic communication between the United States and Europe to August 8, 1885, was taken up and passed.

Other business was pushed aside, and at 11:30 the House went into Committee of the Whole on the River and Harbor Bill. Various amendments were offered and rejected.

Mr. Holman made a point of order against the Hepenip Canal clause, claiming that it should have been reported from the Committee on Railroads and Canals. Mr. Stone replied that the message of the President and other papers in reference to it had been referred to this committee and its jurisdiction is there by established rule.

In the Senate Mr. Sewell presented a resolution of the New Jersey Legislature in favor of the improvement of the entrance to New York Bay, at Sandy Hook.

Mr. Sherman reported favorably the House bill authorizing a National Academy of Science to receive and hold in trust funds for the promotion of science and other purposes. Passed.

Mr. Dawes offered a resolution, which was adopted, instructing the Committee on Indian Affairs to investigate during recess the condition of several tribes of Indians, the territory tenure by which the lands in several reservations are held, the need of legislation in respect thereto, etc. Mr. Voorhes' resolution offered yesterday directing the Secretary of the Interior to furnish information as to contracts supplying beef cattle to Indians was taken up. Mr. Voorhes said he has the best of reasons for believing an inquiry would be of use to the public service.

Mr. Sherman objected to the passage of such a drag net resolution without some specific accusation of fraud.

Mr. Voorhes said he had no suspicion of improper conduct on the part of the Secretary of the Interior, or the Commissioners of Indian Affairs. But the purpose was to ascertain the truth of reports that wrong has been committed by grazing cattle in the Indian Territory. He promised that if the resolution went over for a week, he would either make a specific charge, or withdraw the resolutions. Consideration was accordingly postponed for a week.

At 4 o'clock the Senate went into secret session on the Consular Diplomatic Bill, the pending question being an amendment appropriating a quarter of a million dollars to carry out the provisions of the neutrality act.

DUBLIN, June 12.—Frasman's Journal to-day publishes a long letter from John O'Leary, the well known Fenian, who is said to be the editor of "Irish People" and now residing in Paris. In the letter O'Leary curses the new and horrible delusion of dynamiters and inviolables, which his countrymen, both in Ireland and America, are seized with trust. He says that it is but a passing craze, and warns the Irish people against giving support to dynamiters and inviolables, whose policy is both inexpedient and criminal in character, and is abandoned at once will ruin the cause of Ireland. In conclusion he says there are other men and other means by which to achieve Ireland's freedom.

CONDENSED NEWS.

BARON NORDENFELD is collecting money for an expedition to the South pole. The English press does not relish the nomination of Blaine. It is probably afraid of a war and our formidable navy. A woman named Blaine and a white girl of the name of Christian, crossed the river at St. Louis and were married in Illinois.
